

Victim of brutal sexual assault found dead in park

The Tribune

MON JUN 27 1988

A woman was found dead in the Arroyo Viejo Park early yesterday morning, the apparent victim of a brutal sexual assault.

Police found the fully clothed body behind a bush and a park fence shortly after 6 a.m., 200 yards from the park's entrance near 79th Avenue.

Officer Bruce White said the body was that of a black female,

Murder - Oakland

in her 20s, of medium complexion, a short natural hairstyle, thin and of average height. She also had two surgical scars on her lower abdomen.

She was wearing a striped gray knit coat and blue jeans with the label "Bortina" over each of the front pockets.

Although the exact cause of death is not known, White said the woman appeared to have been sexually assaulted, beaten, stabbed and strangled.

murder
Woman's body found on freeway on-ramp

M WED JUL 13 1988

The body of an unidentified woman who had been shot to death was found yesterday morning on a freeway on-ramp in the Oakland hills. Passing motorists spotted the body of the woman about 7:20 a.m. She was lying a few feet off the Mountain Boulevard on-ramp to the northbound lanes of Highway 13. Homicide Sgt. Dan Voznik said police believe the woman was killed at the site about four hours before being found. He said police had no motive or suspects.

MON OCT 17 1966

Woman shot to death; suicide report in doubt

Oakland police said last night they are investigating the death of a woman that was reported as a suicide but may be a homicide. Homicide detectives were at an apartment at 443 43rd St. in North Oakland where a woman was found at 9:05 p.m. with a gunshot wound to her head. A man at the apartment questioned by police said the woman shot herself. The identities of the victim and the man being questioned were not available.

~~MURDER~~

Death of unidentified woman under probe

THU OCT 20 1988

Oakland police are investigating the death of a still unidentified woman whose body was found in a burning car Tuesday morning. Police Sgt. Mike Sitterud said yesterday that although the woman's cause of death still has not been determined, evidence indicates she did not die as a result of the fire and the blaze may have been deliberately set. The woman's badly burned body was found at 5:20 a.m. in a stolen 1981 Mazda in the 500 block of Chetwood Street. The victim is believed to be black, in her late teens or early 20s, between 5-feet-3 and 5-feet-7 with a noticeable curvature of the spine. She wore blue jeans and tan shoes with turquoise trim. Anyone with information is asked to call police at 273-3821. Sitterud said the car had been stolen sometime after 6 p.m. Monday from Santa Clara Avenue, a short distance away.